(CITY/TOWN) – On (DATE) (SCHOOL) hosted a public engagement as part of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation's initiative Re-Imagine Education. This initiative, which is currently in its second phase, will clarify the issues facing education today, imagine what the future might look like and plan how to make that vision a reality. A public engagement gave members of the (CITY/TOWN/NEIGHBOURHOOD) community the opportunity to discuss what public education in Saskatchewan looks like today and what it could look like in the future.

(QUOTE FROM PRESIDENT OR OTHER LOCAL SCHOOL REPRESENTATIVE)

“The Re-Imagine initiative is about rekindling the conversation – as educational partners and champions of public education,” STF Executive Director Randy Schmaltz stated. “On behalf of our students, we have a responsibility – one that is not to be taken lightly. We need to speak on their behalf. After all, that is what teachers do. Before we speak, we need to listen.”

This public engagement is part of a series of engagements that are taking place across the province throughout the second phase of the Re-Imagine Education initiative. The discussions that are taking place during these engagements are lead by a research report that was created during the first phase. The results of the engagements will then be taken into consideration to create a final set of recommendations for the Saskatchewan government during the third and final phase.
