Re-Imagine Education

Re-Imagine Education is a bold initiative asking us to challenge our views of what education looks like today and what it could look like in the future. This initiative will clarify the issues facing education today, imagine what the future might look like and plan how to make the vision a reality. Five broad themes have been identified for discussion: the purpose of education, the educated person, school community relationships, education decision making and responsibility for education in Saskatchewan.

A process has been developed to gather feedback on the future of education from people across the province and use this feedback in creating a report that will have ten to twelve actionable recommendations to present to the Government of Saskatchewan early next fall to advocate for the changes needed in education.

How can you get involved?

- Contact us at reimagineeducation@stf.sk.ca and we can arrange to have someone speak at your organization.
- Host an engagement activity (we can provide all the necessary materials including a facilitator, if you would like).
- Provide an online written submission to reimagineeducation@stf.sk.ca.
- Follow @SaskTeachersFed on social media and help spread the word.
- Visit the Re-Imagine Education website at www.reimagineeducation.ca.

Momentum Builds

The Re-Imagine Education initiative continues to gain momentum. Over 400 school staff liaisons have participated in an engagement opportunity and several have provided the same opportunity for the teachers and community members connected to their schools. To date, over 13 community events have been held throughout the province and more are scheduled in December. Information and facilitation support for the initiative was provided at the Inclusion Saskatchewan Mom’s Retreat, the Gay-Straight Alliance Summit, the Innovative Approaches to Housing and the Homeless Conference, and the Saskatchewan Career Colleges AGM. The University of Regina’s Education Students’ Society has also hosted an information session.

All of these events and more can be found on the Re-Imagine Education website at www.reimagineeducation.ca. Over 10,000 people have visited the Re-Imagine Education website to date and 2,000 have viewed the online survey.
